The Lumpkin LETTER

Eastern Illinois University

Lumpkin College of Business and Applied Sciences

August 1999

EIU's New President

Dr. Carol D. Surles became the eighth president of Eastern on March 1, 1999. She was president of Texas Woman's University in Denton, Texas, prior to coming to Eastern. She has also served as vice president for administration and business affairs and visiting executive in residence at California State University (Hayward), vice president for academic affairs and professor of management at Jackson State University in Mississippi, and vice chancellor for administration at the University of Michigan in Flint, as well as administrative positions at the University of Central Florida in Orlando.

She holds a bachelor's degree in psychology from Fisk University in Nashville; her master's in counseling from Chapman College in California, and her doctorate in education from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. ♦

Hughes Receives Honorary Doctorate

Dr. Author E. Hughes, Jr. (Class of 1951) was awarded an Honorary Doctor of Public Service degree from Eastern at the May 1999 commencement. He is president emeritus of the University of San Diego.

Dr. Hughes has had a tremendous career. Upon graduation from Eastern, he taught in public school then as a professor of business. He served three years as dean of the school of business at Northern Arizona University before being named vice president and provost. In 1971, he was named president of the University of San Diego, a position he held until his retirement in 1995.

A number of organizations have benefitted from Art's time and energy, including Kiwanis International, Rotary International, the United Way, Boy Scouts of America, the American Cancer Society, the Fine Arts Association of San Diego, the San Diego Symphony Association, and the San Diego Chamber of Commerce. He also served as senior consultant

Hlavek Named Business Distinguished Alumnus

Rudolph G. Hlavek was named the 1999 School of Business Distinguished Alumnus. Rudy (Class of 1964) was a Marketing major who entered the investment business after graduation and has been with Salomon Smith Barney since 1971. He has served as a financial consultant and branch manager in Winter Park, Florida, and the regional director for Florida. He was promoted to Divisional Director for the Midwest Division in July 1995 and then was named the Divisional Director for the Southern Division in October 1998. He served on the Board of the Securities Dealers for four years prior to accepting the Midwest Divisional Director position. ♦

Rudolph G. Hlavek

In April 1998, Rudy was selected as honoree of Eastern's chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, an honorary organization that recognizes leadership and achievement in business. He has also served as Executive-In-Residence for the School of Business. He is currently a member of the Board of Directors of the EIU Foundation and the School of Business Advisory Board.

He and his wife Kathy live in Atlanta. ♦ in higher education for The James Irvine Foundation from 1995-1998 with responsibility for overseeing the foundation's grant-making to independent colleges and universities in California.

He is a past recipient of Eastern's Distinguished Alumnus Award and the School of Business' Distinguished Alumnus Award. Art, a native of Hoopeston, Illinois, and his wife, the former Marjorie Ann Herman, also an Eastern alumnus and a native of Olney, Illinois, live in La Jolla, California. ♦

Mathison Receives Dean's Award

Sarah Mathison received the 1999 Dean's Award. Senior students are nominated by the faculty and selected by a faculty committee and the dean. Selection criteria include grade point average, service to the School of Business and the university, and potential for distinguished service and leadership by reason of scholarship, occupational experience, character, sense of purpose, and growth. Sarah, a marketing major and president of Eastern's chapter of the American Marketing Association, developed the "Time to Shine" project to clean up the campus prior to Parents Weekend last fall. Congratulations and best wishes as you embark on your career! ♦

Enrichment Programs

Dr. David Kwinn, Consultant with BTR Change and Technology Group, presented a career workshop, "How To Get and Keep Your First Job" to students in March 1999. Dr. Kwinn has a PhD from Cornell University and an MBA in Marketing from DePaul University. He has held various upper-level management positions with large companies, most recently as the vice president of marketing for Cooper Automotive. As a consultant with BTR Change and Technology Group, Dr. Kwinn consults with manufacturers worldwide. Students really appreciated his coverage of finding companies that are worth working for, networking, interviewing skills, and corporate culture. The Student Issues Committee in the School of Business sponsored his presentation.

Chandler New Associate Chair

Dr. E. Wayne Chandler has accepted the position as Associate Chair of the School of Business effective July 1, 1999. His responsibilities will include class scheduling for graduate and undergraduate curricula, management of academic programs, curriculum development, career placement and advisement, student internship programs, academic assessment, and student recruitment.

Wayne is a professor of marketing and began his tenure with Eastern in 1983. He received his doctorate from Arizona State University and taught at Graceland College in Iowa prior to coming to Eastern. He replaces Dr. Yunus Kathawala who will return to full-time faculty status.

Congratulations Wayne!

EIU Accounting Advisory Board Endowment Fund

Eastern's Accounting Advisory Board Endowment Fund was established by the Accountancy Advisory Board to strengthen the accountancy program at Eastern through additional funding for scholarships and special projects within the accounting program. Charter donors to date are: Dr. and Mrs. Frank Clark; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Manion; Dr. Roann Kopel; Matthew & Joyce Madigan; Motor Transport Underwriters, Inc. (Mr. Gregory A. Bonnell); State Farm Insurance (Mr. Craig Thiel); Carl & Marsha Dolson; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Schnorf; Doehring & Winders CPA (Mr. Steve Wente); Mr. & Mrs. Robert Polizzi; Dr. Matthew Monnippallil; Theodore W. and Judith J. Ivarie, Mrs. Judy Ethell, Mr. Jeff Bierman, and Price Waterhouse. If you would like more information on how you may make a gift to this fund, please contact the Development Office at 217-581-7969 or by e-mail at csjsc@eiu.edu

Stedman Graham, author of "You Can Make It Happen," came to campus on April 1, 1999, and spoke to students, faculty, staff, and community members about his nine-step plan to success and how you apply it to your life. He said, "The nine-step plan for success is applicable for anybody and anything in life." Graham has a bachelor's degree in social work from Hardin-Simmons University and a master's degree in education from Ball State University. He played basketball in the European Basketball League and has since become involved in sports management and marketing consulting. He founded Athletes Against Drugs, a national organization promoting positive role models for young people. His presentation was sponsored by the Lumpkin School of Business, the Interfraternity Council, the Panhellenic Council, Delta Sigma Pi professional business fraternity, and the University Board. ♦

Business Bits

Alpha Chi, Eastern's chapter of Pi Omega Pi, honorary society in Business Education, placed in the top ten in national competition of projects and activities in 1999.

The American Marketing Association recently selected Eastern's chapter of the American Marketing Association as Chapter of the Year. The presentation was made at the 21st annual international AMA Collegiate Conference held in New Orleans. There were approximately 400 other chapters vying for the award. Judges based their decision on how well chapters meet their goals, plan their activities, and allocate their resources. This year's activities included coordination of Eastern's "Time To Shine," a holiday food drive, contributions to Habitat for Humanity, and a fund-raising telethon for Eastern's marketing discipline. Congratulations go to advisors Dr. Sid Dudley, Dr. E. Wayne Chandler, and chapter president Sarah Mathison for their leadership.

There have been some new additions to the Business and Accounting Advisory Boards recently. Rudolph Hlavek (Class of 1964), 1999 School of Business Distinguished Alumnus, and Gary Barnett, president and CEO of Sarah Bush Lincoln Health System, Mattoon, Illinois, were named to the School of Business Advisory Board. Robert Lahr, member in charge, Kemper CPA Group L.L.C., Robert Polizzi (Class of 1980), business manager, Wheel Loader & Excavator Division, Caterpillar Inc., Kent Rodgers (Class of 1987), CPA with Olive LLP, and Chris Zafis, controller with R.R. Donnelley's Inc. were named to the Accounting Advisory Board. Thank you for your service to the School of Business!

Eastern's chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma was selected as the Gold Chapter, the highest recognition a collegiate chapter can earn through Beta Gamma Sigma, the honor society for AACSB - The International Association for Management Education, for accredited business programs. As a result, a $1500 scholarship for a Beta Gamma Sigma member has been awarded to Matthew Beerbower, a senior accounting major. This is the second time since 1994 that Eastern's chapter has won this award. Congratulations to chapter advisor Mike Wilson for his dedication and outstanding leadership in this organization.

Approximately 40 participants attended the "High-Tech/High-Touch Seminar" for Community College Teachers of Office Careers in June 1999. This two-day seminar was sponsored by the Lumpkin College of Business and Applied Sciences and the School of Adult and Continuing Education. Microsoft Certification, Occupational Skills Standards, Teaching Techniques to Develop Higher Order Thinking Skills, and Distance Learning/Internet Course Implementation were just some of the sessions offered. Dr. Lillian Greathouse coordinated this seminar.

AIS Day 1999 was a huge success as special guests spoke to students about careers in the Administrative Information Systems field. Presentations were given by:

Penny Christman, Solution Center Manager, McLeod USA, Mattoon, Illinois

Helen Marie Farris presented a project at the Legislative Poster Session in Springfield, Illinois, on March 24, 1999. Helen is a business programs honor student majoring in Marketing. In order to fulfill the requirements of her honor's research class, she sent out 800 surveys to businesses in the State of Illinois requesting information on their procedures to overcome Y2K problems. The results were analyzed and presented at the session. Congratulations Helen!

Phi Beta Lambda received a 1998-1999 Gold Key Award which recognizes an outstanding chapter in the Future Business Leaders of America - Phi Beta Lambda, Inc. organization. The chapter also won a Membership Achievement Award in recognition for setting and achieving their goal in membership recruitment. Three Eastern students competed successfully for state offices for the organization in 1999-2000 academic year. Students also competed in several competitive events and won several awards. Dr. Roger Luft is the advisor of this successful organization.

The Scholarly Research and Creative Activity Reception was held April 23, 1999, for all faculty within the Lumpkin College of Business and Applied Sciences. Exhibits included published articles, journals, and proceedings, poster and video presentations, and artistic works. President Carol Surles presented certificates to all the exhibitors on behalf of the Lumpkin College of Business and Applied Sciences. Congratulations for a job well done!

Our thanks also go to the members of the Scholarly Research and Creative Activity Committee: Dr. Martha Brown, Associate Dean and Chair of the committee, Dr. Jean Dilworth, School of Family and Consumer Sciences representative, Dr. Carol Lundgren, School of Business representative, Dr. Wafeek Wahby, School of Technology representative.

Take Stock in the Lumpkin College of Business and Applied Sciences

Have you been watching the stock market like I have? There certainly has been a remarkable growth in value of stocks and other investments since early 1980. I only wish I had known about Microsoft and AOL back then!

These investments are good, but can lead you to contemplate the future. Will the stock continue to increase in value? Will it stay the same? Will it decline? No one ever knows and that's why charitable gifts of stock can be a smart way to make a gift to EIU. A gift of stock could allow you to maximize your gift to your alma mater, have a charitable gift deduction, limit your capital gains tax, and reduce your ordinary income tax.

If you're one of those smart investors whose stock has appreciated, you may gift it to Eastern and the School of Business and take an immediate income tax deduction for the current fair market value, no matter what the original purchase price was. There are some restrictions on the length of time of ownership. If you made an investment of stock that hasn't performed well and has depreciated, it is usually better to sell the stock yourself and make a cash gift to Eastern. This way, you may be able to claim tax benefits for both the capital loss and charitable gift.

There are other gift arrangements that can be funded with securities, but this is a simple example of how easy a gift of stock can be. But remember . . . always consult with your financial advisor to carefully select a securities asset for a charitable gift. Each security situation is different and timing can be everything!

(NOTE: The EIU Foundation accepts gifts of stock and other securities regularly. Please keep in mind that Foundation gift acceptance policies state that the Foundation must sell all gifts of securities upon acceptance.)

For assistance, please contact Jacqueline Clapp, Director of Development, Lumpkin College of Business and Applied Sciences, Eastern Illinois University, 325 Lumpkin Hall, 600 Lincoln Avenue, Charleston, IL 61920, phone 217-581-7969, or email at csjsc@eiu.edu.

Just a reminder.....

Eastern's Homecoming is October 22-23, 1999. Join your fellow alumni in the LCBAS tent after the parade and prior to the game. Enjoy fellowship and refreshments before watching the Panthers play the Golden Eagles from Tennessee Tech. See you there!
